Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

The New York Junior League is an organization of women committed to promoting volunteerism, developing the potential of women, and improving communities through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. Its purpose is exclusively educational and charitable.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

Community Programs

The New York Junior League (NYJL) has been a leader in identifying and responding to vital needs of New Yorkers since 1901. More than 2,600 volunteers collectively donate approximately 255,000 hours of service to better the lives of women and children in New York City each year. Through direct service, collaboration with more than 20 other community organizations and advocacy, the NYJL embodies a positive force for change within the communities it serves.

Currently the NYJL focuses on four areas of need: Adult Education and Mentoring, designed to help adults gain access to education and health services that will assist them in living productive lives and provide support as they face unique challenges;

Children's Education, which provides young New Yorkers and their families tools and opportunities to empower themselves and their communities through a variety of life skills workshops and educational support such as tutoring in math, reading and writing; Child Health and Welfare, intended to provide guidance and support to at-risk children and teens through mentoring and the design and delivery of the NYJL's signature Community Health Access Program (CHAMP) and other life skills-based workshops; and Culture and the Arts, which provides arts and educational support to underserved children through youth focused arts and music programs, and creates safe places for children to play through the NYJL's signature Playground Improvement

Project.

NYJL signature community programming includes:

Community Health Access Program (CHAMP)

The Community Health Access Program (CHAMP) is in its 19th year of presenting preventative health education programs/workshops to the New York City community at large- from children to seniors. Topics range from childhood obesity and diabetes to stress management and domestic violence. Throughout the year, New York Junior League volunteers presented 150 workshops serving more than 900 clients.

Community Improvement Project (CIP)

The Community Improvement Project is in its third year of operation. Through the Community Improvement Project the NYJL's goal is to adopt a nonprofit facility - such as a public school classroom, a senior center, a library or community center - for one year and give it a dramatic makeover. This initiative capitalizes on the success of the NYJL's Playground Improvement Project, which is now in its 23rd year of transforming and revitalizing New York City's parks and playgrounds. CIP utilizes volunteers in much the same way. Nonprofit organizations apply to become an NYJL partner for one year and upon selection of the CIP partner, the NYJL sends volunteers over the following months to do multiple tasks - be it light renovations, equipment and system upgrades, educational workshops, or anything that improves and enhances the space. In 2014 specifically, volunteers helped to create a functional, welcoming theater space for Minisink's many after school and after hour activities. Over $50,000 was spent and volunteers put in over 500 hours towards the renovations. The ceiling was replaced and spotlights installed, the floor was replaced, and theater was repainted and refurbished. Minisink Townhouse, located in the heart of Central Harlem, has served the community for over 50 years since its opening in 1945. The Townhouse provides a safe space for teens and families to gather, providing tutoring, college application support, job training, and dance and sport activities. During the ribbon cutting last year, countless members of the community identified as high school and college graduates and credited New York Mission Society and the Townhouse for helping them to stay out of gangs and off drugs.

Cooking and Health Education for Families (C.H.E.F.)

Cooking and Health Education for Families (C.H.E.F.) seeks to empower families to make life-long, healthy choices using activities that emphasize planning, collaboration, and fun. This program helps reverse the growing trend of childhood obesity and related health issues. Through weekly workshops, families are provided with easy to understand nutritional information and encouraged to make healthy lifestyle choices. Volunteers plan and prepare meals with the families that are nutritious, easy to make and affordable. They also provide fitness activities that are fun and adaptable for a wide range of ages and fitness levels. Throughout the year, NYJL volunteers facilitated 69 workshops for 624 clients.

Playground Improvement Project

The Playground Improvement Project is in its 23rd year most of them in partnership with the New York Department of Parks and Recreation. The NYJL works to transform and revitalize neglected parks, making them safe, happy havens for thousands of children and their families in a variety of New York City neighborhoods. The project started as a one weekend event, and has since blossomed into a season-long event, with well over a thousand NYJL volunteers, families, friends, and members of the local community who come out to support this annual initiative. The volunteers, often joined by teams from all over the community, roll up their sleeves and tackle numerous jobs, from painting benches and fences to planting flowers and community gardens, adding jungle gyms, mulching trees, weeding, and so forth. From simple upgrades to complete revitalization, and even capital improvements, the NYJL's Playground Improvement Project has enhanced the lives of countless individuals and unified communities for more than two decades. In spring 2014, approximately 750 NYJL and community volunteers spent over 5000 hours to revitalize Tompkins Square Park on the Lower East Side of Manhattan - a park that has not benefited from a major transformation since 2006 when the NYJL first volunteered at this location.

Training and Leadership

The ongoing development of trained volunteers is a central component of the New York Junior League's (NYJL) mission and, each year, the NYJL's Training Council leads the development and implementation of a variety of internal volunteer-focused training initiatives, as well as the NYJL's signature training programs that extend to the New York community at large. Through the Volunteer Training and Leadership (VTL) program, the NYJL provides volunteers with the opportunity to learn about relevant community issues and to develop philanthropically, professionally and personally through over 22 trainings annually with over 1,500 attendees. VTL leads the organization of annual Chair Trainings, the NYJL's Leadership Day training for rising leaders, Treasurer Training and Community Focus Area Forums, as well as the NYJL's Annual Meeting. In addition, the Training Council leads the organization of the Non Profit Board Clearing House (NPBC) Course. The NPBC Course trains participants to be effective Board Members and introduces them to dynamic New York City nonprofit agencies through a structured placement process. Since 1991, each year approximately
